REV. BROTHER PATRICK A. GLEESON
Provincial

VENERABLE BR. IGNATIUS RICE

Edmund Rice slowly closed his account book, dropped to his knees beside his desk and breathed a fervent prayer to the Holy Ghost for guidance. It was a prayer of a man who wanted to do God's will, yet could not be sure of the Divine Will. After spending several minutes in intimate contact with his Divine Lord, Edmund Rice again seated himself before his desk and removed from one of the drawers his copy of the Bible. He opened it at random, and there staring him in the face were the words of Isaias, "They that instruct others unto justice shall shine as stars for all eternity." What could this mean? Was the Holy Ghost actually inspiring him — showing him what was to be his Divine Master's will for him? Edmund Rice rose from his chair, walked to the window, and saw below him those same uncouth, unlettered boys running helter and skelter in the streets below. Then he realized the hidden meaning of the scriptural text and he read, and decided then and there to devote his life to the education of the poor boys of Ireland.

On the temporary cessation of hostilities between France and England in the autumn of 1801 Father John Rice, Edmund's brother, left the continent and arrived in Waterford in the first week in October.

Christian Brothers 150th Anniversary 1802 - 1952

TWAS A HOT summer's afternoon as Mr. Edmund Rice wended his way through the streets of Waterford from the docks to his office. As he moved along the congested streets his mind was pre-occupied with thoughts of the huge cargo he had just seen unloaded from an incoming ship. Such thoughts as, "What price would it bring?" and "What customers would it interest?" raced through his heat-oppressed mind. Not once but several times was he nearly knocked off his feet by crowds of rough, uncouth boys playing their childish games in the streets. Soon, though, he arrived at the door of his office, and began the weary climb to his small suite on the second floor. Day by day the flight of stairs seemed to get longer and longer, for Mr. Rice was close to forty years of age.

After a brief pause at the top of the stairs, Mr. Rice entered his office, sat down at his desk and began going through his accounts. Try as he would, he just couldn't seem to concentrate on the work in front of him. His mind was far from the work of the import-export business. That ever-present thought kept pounding in his mind — "What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his soul?" Truly, Mr. Rice had gained just about the whole world. He had many friends in high places; he was remarkable for his benevolence, prudence, and integrity; he was well acquainted with the poverty and sufferings of his less fortunate brethren. But what could he, a man of thirty-eight years of age, do to become more perfect? Should he follow his first impulse and hide himself away in an Augustinian monastery in Italy as he had thought of so often? For some reason or other, this did not seem to strike him as being his vocation.

His arrival was providential, for it coincided with his brother's decision to leave the world. In fact preliminary preparations for the winding up of Edmund's business were already far advanced. To Edmund, who at this critical stage of his career so sorely needed guidance and advice, the presence of his brother was invaluable, for, in addition to being a doctor of theology, Father John was familiar with the life and practices of religious societies both in Spain and Italy. Edmund's plans were fully discussed from every angle: monastic life, community life, religious observance and practice, in short, everything that could have any bearing on his future as a religious. And so, the small mustard seed that was to become the huge tree overshadowing the entire world — the Christian Brothers — was planted.

So it was, after much consultation with his brother and the Bishop of Waterford, that Edmund Rice opened his first school in New Street in Waterford. Two zealous young men joined his undertaking and threw themselves into the work of educating youths with whole-hearted enthusiasm. But, unfortunately, their enthusiasm and zeal soon waned and they gave Edmund Rice notice of their resignation. Mr. Rice pleaded with them; offered them higher wages; promised them better conditions in the near future if they would only not desert him in this his hour of need. But they turned a deaf ear to his appeal and left him to carry on his work single-handed. They had none of that self-sacrificing zeal and generosity that overlooked defects in the hope of replacing them with virtue. Very frequently in the days that followed, Edmund Rice must have knelt in the solitude of his room and, with his arms outstretched, exclaimed: "Out of the depths I have cried to Thee, O Lord! Lord, hear my voice."

Christ must have heard Edmund's prayer, for within a short time, two other young men came to aid in the work of Catholic education. It was on June 1, 1803, therefore, that Edmund Rice and his two disciples, Thomas Grosvenor and Patrick Finn, moved into their new residence at Mt. Sion, Waterford, and began their career as Religious. From that time on, postulants came slowly, but in ever-increasing numbers, to the infant Congregation of Holy Mother Church. Schools began to be opened in other cities of Ireland — Cork, Carrick-on-Suir, Dungarven, and Limerick. So great was the reputation of the Christian Brothers, that, at the time of Brother Edmund Ignatius Rice's death in 1844, there were altogether in Ireland and England twenty-four schools in which seventy Christian Brothers were educating about eight thousand pupils.

During the thirty years that followed the death of the Founder the Congregation spread rapidly in Ireland and more than sixty new foundations were made. But across the Irish Sea in England the picture was anything but cheerful. The sixteen schools in operation there gradually dwindled in numbers of Brothers until finally only two schools remained. These, too, failed and in 1880 they, like the other Brothers' schools in England, were closed. It was not until fifteen years later that the Brothers returned to England to take over the management of Prior College, Bath. Since that time, the numbers of Brothers in England gradually increased until it received the status of a Province, having a Juniorate, Novitiate, a House of Studies, eight secondary schools in which there are nearly four thousand pupils, and an orphans' home.

Before Brother Rice died, he had the privilege of seeing his Congregation spread, in addition to Ireland and England, to "The Rock" — Gibraltar, where Protestant missionaries were doing their best to proselytise the Catholic population there. At the request of the Holy Father, the Brothers opened a small school to educate the Catholic children. They remained in Gibraltar until World War II when they and their pupils were evacuated to Tangier, only to return in April, 1945, to resume their mission of the Christian education of the young.

The Brothers opened their first school "down under" in Australia in 1869 at the invitation of the Bishops. So great has been the progress of the Christian Brothers in the Southern Continent that, at the present time, there is hardly a town of any importance in Australia that has not a Brothers' school. There are upwards of seven hundred Brothers conducting eighty educational establishments which comprise Boarding and Day, Secondary and Primary Schools, Agricultural Training Schools and institutions for orphans and deaf-mutes. Addressing the great Eucharistic Congress held in Melbourne in 1934, Archbishop Mannix stated: "I must not forget to say that we owe much of our prosperity to the labors of the Christian Brothers here during the last fifty years."

The fame of the Christian Brothers spread to North America, and at the request of the Hierarchy the Brothers opened their first school on the American continent at St. John's, Newfoundland, in 1876. The year 1906 witnessed the arrival of four Brothers in the city of New York where they opened the boys' department of All Saints School under the patronage of Rt. Rev. James Power. Other establishments followed in quick succession across the States to the vast industrial city of Chicago, to the mining center of Butte, and on to the Pacific seaboard to the great cities of Seattle, Vancouver, Victoria, Los Angeles, and our latest foundation, Salinas, California.

Shortly before the turn of the present century, the Brothers opened a school in Calcutta, India. Shortly afterwards, in 1897, the Christian Brothers established in Kimberley, South Africa, their first school. Three years later, at the request of ecclesiastical Superiors, a school was opened in the Eternal City of Rome.

At no period in the history of the Congregation have so many new foundations been made as during the years since 1930. In addition to enlarging many of the existing communities, twelve new foundations were made in Ireland, fifteen in Australia, nine in America, seven in England, six in South Africa, and two in India, making a total of over fifty new Communities. Truly the Lord of the Harvest has blessed this work humbly begun by Brother Edmund Ignatius Rice one-hundred and fifty years ago. The mustard seed he planted in a remodeled house in 1802 has grown into the massive tree whose branches embrace the entire world. The small flame Edmund Rice lit on Mt. Sion has radiated its beams of light and hope throughout the world. Others saw it, and from it lit their lamps. Not until the last of these lamps has been extinguished will the story of Edmund Ignatius Rice and the Christian Brothers be completed.

CLASS HISTORY

THE TIME HAS COME to bid farewell to Central and we are leaving behind a short history of our four brief, happy years.

In September 1948 we entered Central determined to uphold the best traditions of previous Freshman classes. We found much to interest us scholastically, and soon were sharing in the many activities of the school. Twenty-one members found places on the school honor roll and the Band, Tumblers, Glee Club, Dramatics, "B" Football and Freshman Basketball had many representatives from the Freshman Class.

Returning as Sophomores we considered ourselves "old hands" and carried out our resolution to better our record made as Freshman. Our honor roll proved the ability of the group where studies were concerned. A favored few won admission to the Monogram Club and our representation in the other activities was larger than that of the preceding year. We succeeded in capturing the top honors in the Intramural Track Meet in our division. With our feet a little firmer on the ground, we looked forward with great hopes for a successful year as Juniors.

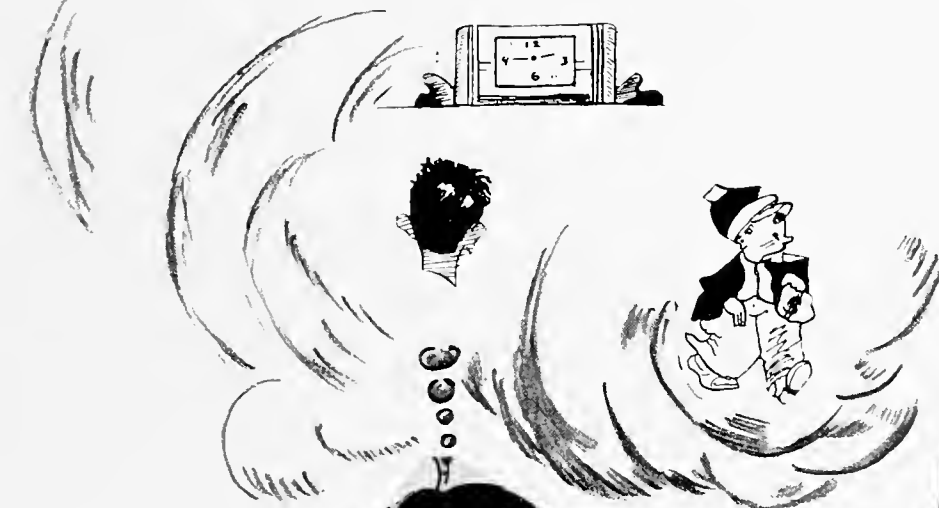

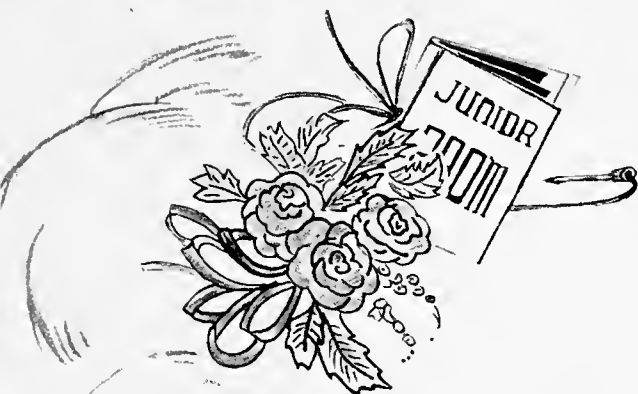

September 1950 rolled around and here we were second in importance to the Seniors. We gradually developed a modest moustache and shed our treble voices for the more manly and booming basses. We were the core of most of the school activities, and as we were older members of Central's happy family we took the second half of our high school course in stride. The list of honor students was always large and our school spirit left nothing to be desired. We felt ready for the "last lap" which would round out our high school career.

Three years of waiting and here we are as Seniors. Leading the entire student body through every activity is a tradition, although we were handicapped by the athletic set-up. We kept our pace in studies, as a matter of fact the Brothers saw to it that we even stepped it up. The day of final exams rapidly approached and is it college or Korea that is calling? The future looks uncertain, but come what may, we have had a solid foundation and ought to be able to face life with a reasonable hope of success. Future classes will carry on. To them we say: — "Good luck, happy days, keep Central on top".

THE ROUND TABLE

THE CENTRAL Round Table is an organization formed for the purpose of furthering the development of Boys' Central High School by active support of school activities, the scholastic as well as the athletic.

During the past year the Round Table took full responsibility for the coach's salary, financed the cost of athletic equipment and took care of all athletic expenses. It rendered financial aid to the Tumblers and sponsored a Social to send the Central Band to Missoula for the Central-Missoula basketball game. The outfitting of the football and basketball teams, their traveling expenses, insurance of individual players were all taken care of by the Round Table. The coach, the teams and the whole athletic department feel deeply indebted and appreciate fully the fact that athletics in Central could not be carried out on such a grand scale but for the generous support of the Round Table.

CLASSES GRADUATE, Brothers are transferred, pupils register and leave, but one person has been a fixture here for fourteen years. Officially chief engineer and custodian, and unofficially student advisor and assistant faculty member, Tom is a living example of loyalty, fidelity, and devotion to duty. His faith in Central is deep and sincere and his interest is shown by the care and attention he gives to his work.

It is our pleasure to tell him what a fine example he has always given us and to say thanks for his numerous favors to us. Good luck and best wishes from the Class of "52".

COACH EDWARD H. ROY

FOOTBALL . . 1951

WITH OUR BEST material, potentially, in three years we looked forward to a good football season but were doomed again to disappointment.

The first game with Helena was a close, well-played game, but one swift thrust by the Bengals, shook Halverson loose and he galloped eighty-five yards for the only score of the game. This happened in the final two minutes of play.

The next encounter with Butte High found us on the wrong end of 61-0 score. Butte had too much power, too many reserves, too much speed and made too few mistakes.

We rallied in our next encounter with Livingston and came out on the long end of a 30-12 score. Our hopes flared up again, but quickly went into a tailspin as we won only one game in the next five a 14-7 affair against Missoula. Incidentally this game made history as it was the first time we beat Missoula in football. Our last game was against Anaconda Central against whom we tallied 42 points to the opponents 6.

All credit to the team who carried out the Coach's oft-repeated advice to "tough it out". It is not interesting to play through a losing season. Coach Roy and his assistants, T. Ary, Danny McCarthy and Jim Sweeney put in many long hours of practice and worked hard and perseveringly.

We would like to thank our loyal fans who followed us all through the season and who appreciate the facts that the players deserve some support and that winning games is not the sole purpose of athletics. Thanks also to Br. Cobb, Moderator, to the Central Band, Girls' Central Twirlers and Drum Corps, the Pep Club and our spirited Cheer Leaders. Mr. George Perry and Mr. Francis Dolan richly deserve the thanks and appreciation of the team and the faculty for their care and attention, so graciously given gratis, to the medical needs of the team during the season.

BASKETBALL

THE "A" TEAM severely handicapped by lack of height and experience (only two Seniors made the squad) had a decidedly off season. This after six good years in a row still leaves our average pretty high. Are we downhearted? No!!!

The "B" team under James Freebourn had its five best players moved up to the "A" team, thus putting it at a disadvantage from the very beginning. Its record of 2 won — 12 lost is not very imposing, still the experience gained will pay dividends in the future.

The Freshman team, coached by Joe Kelly, won 7 and lost 3. The team has plenty of height, speed and know-how and it showed powerful scoring ability. These players give promise of great things to come.

TUMBLING

THE "INCOMPARABLE Central Tumblers" wrote history during the 1951-52 campaign. The high point in the annals was achieved when the team went on tour to entertain the Armed Forces in Washington. The Tumblers and their equally distinguished accompanists, the Accordion Band, departed on the Olympian Hiawatha on August 22nd and arrived in Seattle the following morning where they were royally received. The group was then escorted through downtown Seattle by a motorcycle squad.

After being guests at a luncheon given by the King County Sheriff, the group was again escorted to television station KING-TV. This video appearance made history as the boys were the first group of Montanans ever to appear on television. In fact, most of the boys were on television even before they had viewed it.

The fine receptions received by the troupe at their numerous performances — including Seattle Elks, Briscoe School, General Madigan Hospital, Fort Lewis and McChord Airbase — showed that the precisioned, professional-like tumblers were well appreciated by all who witnessed their entertainment in Washington. The tumblers and accordion band also visited the State Capitol at Olympia and spent the final day of the trip sightseeing in Seattle.

The regular season was highly successful. In peak shape the whole year, the gymnasts gave approximately 60 performances at basketball games, organizations and clubs throughout the state including several exhibitions for the Heart, Cancer and March of Dimes funds. Outstanding performances of the year included exhibitions at the dedication of the new Civic Center and at the Class "A" Basketball Tournament also held at the Civic Center. Among out-of-town shows given were those at Great Falls, Boulder, Anaconda, Dillon, Three Forks, Twin Bridges, Whitehall, Deer Lodge, and Helena.

An addition to the tumbling repertoire this year was the popular clown act which always left the audience in laughter. In full costume the tumbling-fumbling jesters mimicked their own stunts to the delight of the crowd.

The great achievement attained by the tumblers this year can primarily be attributed to the efforts, coaching and leadership of Brother J. N. McMahon, who in his four years with the tumblers has brought them to their present high status. Also responsible is the fine spirit of the boys as well as the excellent support given by the public.

In Memoriam

Rev. Father J. A. Rooney

It is with genuine regret and a deep sense of loss that we chronicle the passing of Father Rooney. He was a great Priest and everybody's friend. Central has lost one of its staunchest helpers and most loyal supporters. We dedicate this page of our Annual to his beloved memory. May the good Lord, whom he served so well have mercy on his noble soul.

Eternal rest grant unto him O Lord
And let perpetual light shine upon him.
May he rest in peace. Amen.

GRADUATION

CLASS HISTORY

THE DOORS of old Central opened wide to welcome the green freshies of '48. Our four years of high school loomed before us as we eagerly got into the swing of things by electing our first class officers: Elizabeth Ungherini, Jo Ann Gardner, Rosanna McDonald and Lynne Lowney.

Sophisticated sophs found Bernice Silver, Gay Loggins, Helen Sullivan and Betty June Sologub as our leaders. Junior officers were: Joan McGurk, Joan Wills, Mary Fran Hanley and Claudia Hoy.

Donna Renouard, senior class prexy, got our 1951-'52 activities under way with the aid of Marie Kindt, Rosanna McDonald and Shirley Walsh.

Doing much to bring fame to Central were our literary anthologists: Geraldine Segulia, Helen Sullivan, Lynne Lowney, Shirley Ann Lee, Arlene Guay, Claudia Hoy, Helen Ferry, Julie Flanick, Marilyn Dolan, Donna Renouard, Gayle Cushing, Mary Jane Gannon as seniors. Frosh anthologists were: Shirley Ann Lee, Kay Cortese, Rosanna McDonald, Mary Fran Hanley, Claudia Hoy, Shirley Kabalin, and Marilyn Dolan.

Frosh prodigy was Shirley Ann Lee who won first place in the American Legion Essay Contest.

Gay Loggins stole the show as our snappy head majorette. Filling the ranks of twirlers, we had Jo Ann Gardner and Rosemary Demsher assisting Gay at either side. Other strutters were: Catherine Perrick, Lil Marie Maguire, Gayle Cushing, Julie Flanick, Marilyn Dolan, Mary Fran Hanley, Carolyn Gleeson, Bernice Silver, Joan Wills and Hazel Sheehan.

Holding their own in the Drum and Bugle Corps were: Lynne Lowney, Helen Ferry, Rosanna McDonald, Joan McGurk, Delores Powell, Betty Riley, Mary Jo Curtin, Jo Ann Miller, Ione Sullivan, Jean Miller, Helen Sullivan, Ceil Ann Dolan, Marie Kindt, Shirley Kabalin, Donna Renouard, Betty Hughes and Molly Quinn.

Junior Drum Corps officers were Rosanna McDonald, Jo Ann Gardner and Lynne Lowney.

Our lively Pep Club made way for good times and hoarse voices led by officers: Sheila Burke, Mary Fran Hanley, Bernice Silver and Kay Cortese.

Unbeatable yell queens always peppering games up were Elizabeth Ungherini and Shirley Ann Lee.

Our "Queen Line-up" went like this:

Donna Renouard was Sophomore Stamp Queen. Her successor, as a junior, was Gay Loggins who was also Gridiron Queen in her senior year.

Monogram attendants were Julie Flanick, Jo Ann Gardner, Elizabeth Ungherini and Donna Renouard.

Reigning supreme as Mardi Gras Queen was Jo Ann Gardner. Attending her were: Margaret Mary Crowley, Julie Flanick, Kay Cortese, Rosemary Demsher, Molly Quinn, Donna Renouard, Helen Sullivan, Elizabeth Ungherini, Gayle Cushing, Gay Loggins and Jo Ann Miller.

Junior and senior Sodality officers were: Helen Sullivan, Jo Ann Gardner, and Lynne Lowney.

Joyce Kiely and Sheila Burke were delegates to Girl's State.

Active in sports also, we won the Intramural Basketball Tourney as sophs. Athletic officers were Molly Quinn, Joan McGurk, and Rosanna McDonald.

Centralite staffers led by editor Helen Ferry were: Lil Marie Maguire, Rosanna McDonald, Jo Ann Gardner, Shirley Ann Lee, Shirley Kabalin, Marie Kindt, Betty Riley, Delores Powell and Jean Miller. Holding Quill and Scroll pins were Helen Ferry, Rosanna McDonald, Jo Ann Gardner and Lil Marie Maguire.

Senior actresses in the spotlight, junior debaters, and junior senior speech meet participants were: Gay Loggins, Claudia Hoy, Rosemary Demsher, Shirley Kabalin, Catherine Perrick, Mary Fran Hanley, Joyce Keily, Helen Sullivan, Margaret Mary Crowley, Helen Ferry.

Now as the curtain is about to fall on our high school days and the bright high lights of all our proms, mixers and fun fade into wonderful memories of unforgettable yesterdays, we bid our Alma Mater farewell. The light burns dim, the laughter and music is low as we leave our beloved Central.

Thank you dear sisters, priests, lay faculty and friends. We shall never forget you.

The Class of '52.

CLASS OF 1955

KNOW MONTANA...

MONTANA'S FIRST PUBLIC SCHOOL

Historians record that the first public school was opened December 12, 1864 in Virginia City, when the first school district of the Montana territory was formed.

However, prior to that time, in the fall of 1863, a school had been established in Bannack by Lucia Darling. It was in the back room of her family's home. The enrollment was less than 30 pupils. Records do not reveal the method of financing the school but it is assumed that the school was supported by subscription and more than likely payments were made in gold dust, the most common medium of exchange of the period.

Only a few books were available for use in the class. These were the books carried west by the pioneers and treasured throughout their lives. Classes were held during morning hours only and not at all during the colder winter days.

In 1864 the Darling school was transferred to a log cabin on the banks of Grasshopper creek. The structure was built by Charles Sackett and Richard Fenn. Later this building became the property of the United States and was used as a Senate committee room for the First Territorial assembly.

A "Common School System for the Territory of Montana" was established in an act signed by the territory's first governor, Sidney K. Edgerton, on February 7, 1865.

Among the early-day teachers of the territory were Miss Darling, Professor T. J. Dimsdale, Oxford graduate and teacher at Virginia City who became first head of territory education; Mrs. Thomas Watson, William Mitchell, Kate M. Dunlap and Michael Roach.

They Carved a Commonwealth Out of the Wilderness

The hardy men and women whose work and courage built this State leave us a great debt to be repaid . . . no danger was too great, no hardship too difficult for them to overcome or dissolve. From their work have come the comforts and conveniences we enjoy today.

Electricity is an example. Because a group of men had courage and the initiative to go ahead, great dams and power plants were built, lines were extended to many areas of the state and the people were served.

In later years, the system they had built was expanded, and service was improved. Today more than 400,000 Montana men and women look to The Montana Power Company for fine electric service at low rates and for adequate power at all times.
